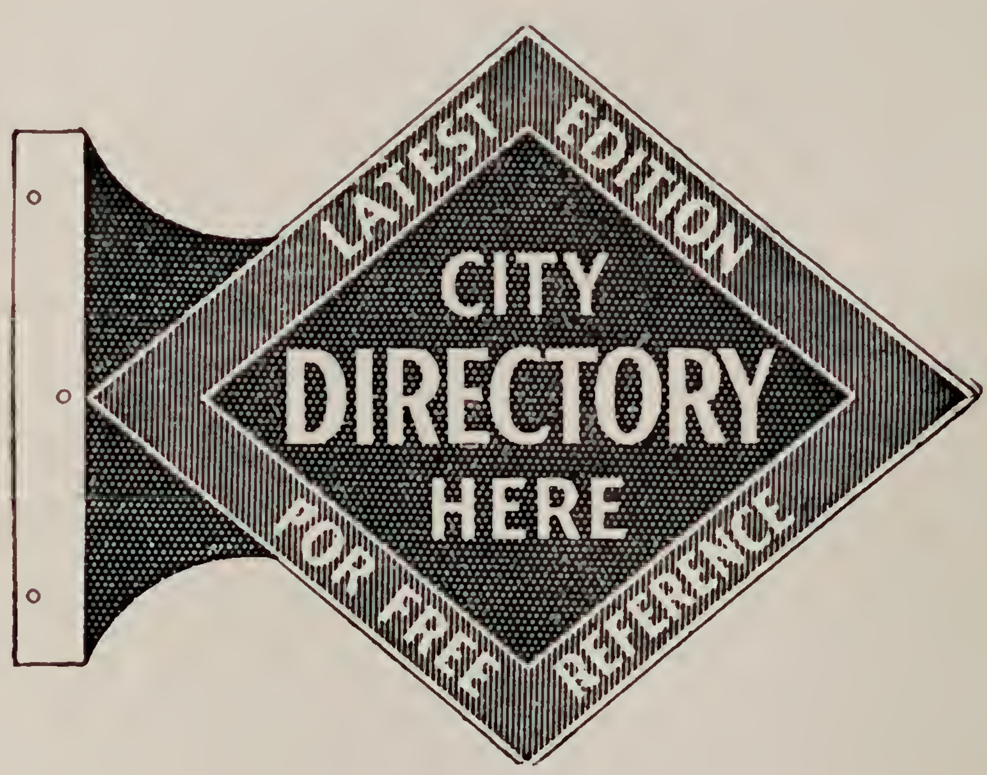
This is the Sign of the Progressive Merchant



Every City must have a Directory not only to give the names and addresses of its citizens, but also to give that character of progressiveness that would record the names of its people for historical purposes. Everyone has forefathers, these forefathers have made the history of this country; someday you will be the forefather and your descendants can visualize your life's work quicker through the registration in the Directory of your time than in any other way. The BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF THE MASSES IS CONTAINED IN THE CITY DIRECTORY AND IN NO OTHER PLACE That stamps its importance to the family. To make your history, watch your directory registration to see that it accurately records your position in life from year to year.

CAMBRIDGE

Famous in History, Prominent in Education, Leader in Industry

Compiled by H. A. Manning Company, with assistance of Cambridge Chamber of Commerce

The publishers of this Directory consider it advisable and desirable to set forth the following paragraphs, in as simple and attractive a manner as possible, to enable the readers of these descriptive pages to comprehend as many of the outstanding features of Cambridge as limited space permits. The local resident, the visitor, and the distant reader about Cambridge wishes to gain an impression of Cambridge as well as to have at hand a statistical reference regarding the city and its people. It is the publisher's aim to portray as much of Cambridge's charm and greatness as is consistent with facts. We believe with John Cotton Dana, the great librarian, that "Good citizenship springs from a knowledge about one's own community." The teachings of the City Map and the City Directory about localities, districts, street locations, street changes, growth of sections, and general city changes are of great importance to property owners, old residents, new residents, and school students. Racial characteristics of names in the Directory enable the consultant to gain a very comprehensive knowledge of the inhabitants of the city and many other educational facts. Notable men all through history have contributed their philosophy on the value of knowledge about the "home town." Here is one from Abraham Lincoln: "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him." In studying the following, remember that the Cambridge City Directory disseminates this information far and wide where this Directory represents Cambridge in the Free Directory Library Exchange System of North America. The Cambridge City Directory, with over 1,200 closely printed pages, is the City of Cambridge in book form; its family and social life, business and industrial life, is portrayed in great detail. The publishers invite and accept constructive criticism and suggestions.

LOCATION—Cambridge is known world-wide as "The University City." It is, however, much more than an educational city. It has 500 industries and is a great warehousing center for merchandise. TOPOGRAPHY—Much of Cambridge lies north of the Charles River Basin which it borders for 4 miles. This Basin has been greatly improved and beautified with parkways along its shores adding distinction and charm to the city. The city occupies 6,535 square miles and is 4¾ miles east and west and 2 1/5 miles north and south. The maximum altitude above sea level is 77 feet. There is scarcely a foot of land in Cambridge that cannot be developed for city use. There are many fine residential streets with beautiful homes and apartment buildings, and in Cambridge homes can be found to fit all pocketbooks. There are many fine streets traversing the city and many great arteries of travel pass through Cambridge.

VIEW OF HARVARD SQUARE SECTION OF CAMBRIDGE NORTHWARD

HISTORICAL—Cambridge was settled in 1630. It was incorporated a city in 1846, original shire town of Middlesex County, and houses the County Offices of Administration. Beginning with a good old New England town, with its college atmosphere built around Harvard University of 300 years ago, it has become a great city with its 41 private educational institutions, over 500 industries and nearly 2,000 merchandising outlets. It can properly be said that the history of Cambridge should begin at the Old Burying Ground at Harvard Square. Visualizing from this point the small beginnings of this city is easy if one has the time. There are many historical markers in Cambridge of which we can only mention a few for lack of space:—

1. Fort Washington, foot of Allston Street near Charles River.
2. Site of Fort No. 1 where Riverside Press now stands on Blackstone Street.
3. Site of Fort No. 2 on left hand side of Putnam Avenue below Franklin Street, built 1775 by order of George Washington.
4. Site of Inman House, Inman Street near City Hall. General Putnam had headquarters in 1775 in house which stood here.
5. Apthorpe House Bishop Place, between Plympton and Linden Streets, built in 1760. General Burgoyne and staff officers confined here as prisoners of war in 1777.
6. Site of first schoolhouse in Cambridge, Holyoke Street, first schoolhouse built in 1648.
7. Site of Governor Dudley House, northwest corner Dunster and South Streets. The founder of Cambridge and Governor of Massachusetts lived here in 1630.
8. John Hicks House, southeast corner Dunster and Winthrop Street, built 1762. Hicks was killed by British soldiers April 9, 1775 and the house was used as Army office by General Putnam.
9. Site of first meetinghouse in Cambridge, southwest corner Dunster and Mt. Auburn Streets. Erected 1632.
10. Site of Spreading Chestnut Tree, Brattle near Story Street where village smithy stood, made famous in Longfellow's poem.
11. Washington Elm, Garden corner Mason Street. Washington took command American Army under this tree July 3. 1775.
12. Cambridge Common where centers much of the early history of this section. Cannon marker for guns used by Continental Army in siege of Boston during American Revolution.

There are hundreds of other markers and historic spots most of which are recorded by the Cambridge Historical Society.

As Cambridge took a leading place in the making of history in the early days of America it is so doing today at an accelerated pace. In the summer and fall of 1936 Harvard University held its Tercentenary Celebration, entertaining visitors from all over the world. Visitors to Cambridge of a quarter century ago would hardly recognize it today because of its modernization in streets, boulevards, parks, buildings and mode of transportation. In some ways it stands first among New England's cities and combining all its advantages it can be said to rank among the leading cities of this section of the country.

MERCANTILE—The retail trade area of Cambridge is very competitive. Within 5 miles of the center of the retail district is a 250,000 customer district which is rapidly growing in population. The wholesale territory covers more than 2,000,000 population. There are 1,256 retail establishments employing 7,290, with 903 proprietors. The annual payroll is $14,185,000. The annual business transacted is $117,051,000. There are 17 major groups of retail distribution. Cambridge stands fifth among Massachusetts cities per capita of retail trade. There are 269 wholesale establishments with 4,764 employees receiving annual wages of $20,922,000. Annual sales $186,000,000. Total retail and wholesale annual business $303,051,000. The retail distribution of Cambridge is divided into two principal districts of Central Square and Harvard Square located on Massachusetts Avenue about one mile apart. There are lesser ,districts at Kendall Square, Inman Square, Porter Square Putnam Square and Lechmere Square; also much business for some miles along Massachusetts Avenue which is gradually developing to make this Avenue a great retail shopping thoroughfare. There are more than 7 miles of store frontage along the principal business streets as well as 2 miles scattered, making a total of over 9 miles of store frontage in the city.

INDUSTRIAL CAMBRIDGE

INDUSTRIAL—Industry has not superseded education in Cambridge. It is still a University City to a greater extent than ever before. Industry has, however, replaced education as the most prominent characteristic of the city. Industry is not new to Cambridge. The only thing new is its tremendous growth, and its position among New England cities as the third in industry. Industry in Cambridge is almost as old as education. Here the first printing press in the colonies operated, the birth of the great publishing industry of America was here; the first center aisle passenger coach was produced here. Great glassware factories employed 500 as early as 1850. Modern transportation and the reclamation of 2 square miles of tide-covered lowlands in the city are two factors that have had much to do with the growth of industrial Cambridge. The transition to an industrial city began in the 1870's when the reclaiming of the lowlands began. Known as "Research Center of the World." Commonwealth of Massachusetts census of manufacturers 1951 covered 355 establishments reporting 20,045 employees, 155 unreported, making a total of 510 establishments employing 35,000 with annual wages paid of estimated $95,325,659, with products annually of nearly half a billion dollars for 1952. It stands first in the country as a confectionery center, and very prominent in the manufacture of soap, bread and other bakery products, printing, publishing, rubber goods, rubber boots, shoes, electrical machinery, apparatus and supplies, foundry machine shop products, furniture. "You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn"

MORE TRUE TODAY than YESTERDAY

What Abe Lincoln said so well years ago applies to our living today even more. Consider his further comments:

"You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.
"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.
"You cannot help strong men by tearing down big men.
"You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.
"You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred.
"You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.
"You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.
"You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence.
"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

State of Massachusetts

1628-29
MAY 10 1643

Incorporated May 10, 1643

Middlesex County, from its beginning when on May 10, 1630, John Winthrop arrived with a charter fixing the limits of what many are pleased to term as original territory of Middlesex County, as 3 miles south of the Charles River, to 3 miles north of the Merrimack, with a limitless boundary westward to the sea, has been known for its growth and progress

The original charter of the county granted by Charles I to John Endicott and others March, 1628, was subsequently enlarged and other settlers were granted shares, among them being John Winthrop.

Charlestown, the first settlement (1628-1629), was originally an Indian fishing village called Mishawum. There the nucleus of this first settlement was gathered about the three Sprague Brothers, Ralph, Richard and William.

Among the interesting facts about Middlesex County it is noted that in 1945 the assessed valuation was $1,520,813,598.00, second richest in the State; it contains 11 cities and 43 towns and had a population (1950) of 1,064,569. Two County seats are located at Cambridge and at Lowell. The County assists in the administration of justice, supports the Agricultural Extension Service, maintains the Tuberculosis Hospital, the House of Correction at Billerica, and a jail and house of correction at Cambridge; a training school for boys at North Chelmsford and gives towns engineering and financial assistance in construction and maintenance of certain roads.

COUNTY OFFICERS

The County Commissioners' meeting of the board is held at Cambridge every Tuesday and Friday and at Lowell on the third Monday of each month. As Trustees of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital District they hold meetings at the sanatorium on the first and third Tuesday of each month.

Unless otherwise specified, all offices are located at 90 Third Street, East Cambridge (41), Massachusetts. Telephone TRowbridge 6-8000.

The Churches

WITH A GRAND TOTAL OF SEVENTY CHURCHES, representing all of the leading denominations, Cambridge could properly be called a

City of Churches

These noble edifices placed at intervals about the city add much to its attractiveness and charm.

It is the belief of many Cambridge citizens of vision that this full and adequate supply of churches is one of the greatest of the many resources of our city.

That for newcomers it is a factor that makes for the ready assimilation into the religious and social life of the community and hastens the time required to make citizens of the strangers who come to us.

The Church of today is the greatest of all institutions for the planting of good thoughts in the minds of the people and stands as the bulwark against the degrading influences that surround us.

Therefore, let us give a thought to these institutions that form so great a part of our city life and in visualizing our future greatness, let us remember their value as

A Factor for Progress

Christ Church was organized in 1759 for Church of England families living in Cambridge. The Church building was designed by Peter Harrison of Yorkshire. The church was opened for services on October 15, 1761 and a few years later was occupied by the Continental Troops. George Washington worshipped here. In 1857, the church was enlarged to its present size.

THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IS THE

CITY DIRECTORY

Because It Is Used The Most To Find Just Such Information You Most Wish To Have The Public Know

FIRST—what line of goods you handle. SECOND—where you are located. Pick up a City Directory anywhere, and almost invariably you can tell who the progressive, up-to-date merchants and professional men are. There are many brands of clothing, shoes, dry goods, groceries, etc., and some prefer one kind, some another. What better place to state your special brands than in the City Directory?

INDUSTRIAL CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge offers many features favorable to industrial location: a low tax rate, filtered water, high water pressure, excellent fire and police protection, good transportation facilities, low utility rates, an ample skilled labor supply, an active market for manufactured goods, proximity to high caliber research facilities, and a Council-Manager government friendly to industry. During the past few years it has developed a reputation for being the outstanding research center of the world. This represents a shift in emphasis as a result of the research centers developed from the war and defense effort at Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A NEW INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH BUILDING

Industrially, Cambridge still enjoys the position of retaining a high diversity of industry: confectionery, printing and publishing, soap manufacture, bread and other bakery products, rubber goods, rubber boots and shoes, electrical machinery, apparatus and supplies, foundry and machine shop products, furniture, dictionaries, transformers and radio apparatus, oil burners and over 500 other products impossible to list here.

For further information on Industrial Cambridge, write to the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, 600 Memorial Drive, Cambridge, Mass. or to the publishers of this directory.

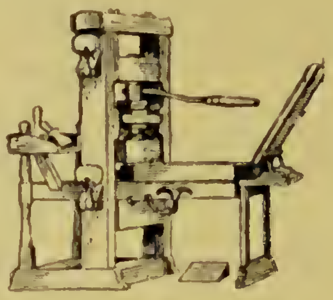
The
Stephen Daye Press



Established
1639

Publishing and Printing in Industrial Cambridge

INDUSTRY IN CAMBRIDGE is almost as old as education in this country. Here, a few years after the Pilgrims landed on our shores, the first printing press was started. The Reverend Jose Glover sailed from England with a printing press in 1638. He was accompanied by his wife and a mechanic with two sons. Unfortunately, he died on the way over, but Mrs. Glover on arrival bought a house, married President Dunster of Harvard, and wedded the college to the printing press.

The mechanic, Stephen Daye, set up the press and his son, Matthew, aged 18, became the first printer in America. Here was produced the first American book, printed in 1640, the first American Bible, in 1663.

The history of printing and its activities in Cambridge is enormous, and shows that as a center of the art the city has no rival of its size in the world. The civilizing and educating influence thus created can hardly be exaggerated.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. a famous publishing name, has their plant, The Riverside Bindery, in Cambridge was founded in 1851 in a small wooden structure which was originally the old Almshouse. Their modern plant for the binding of their publications employs over 100 craftsmen.

UNIVERSITY PRESS is a revered institution of Cambridge whose roots go back to Pilgrim days. In 1638, the Reverend Jose Glover came from England to found a printing press in the new country. He brought with him Stephen Daye, and they established the press in the home of Henry Dunster, first president of Harvard. Over the years the press has had many changes of ownership. The Welch Bigelow Co. period being 1802-1879, and John Wilson & Son, 1879-1895. In 1929 new management took over the press as University Press, Inc., continuing the fine heritage to the present time. Book printing and fine commercial work are carried on with the most modern machinery, equipment, and personnel.

Every City Must Have a Directory

..not only to give the names, business and addresses of its citizens, but also to give that character of the progressiveness that would record the information of its people and institutions for present usefulness and historical purposes

The biographical history of the masses is contained in the City Directory and no other place. That stamps its importance to the individual, business and organization. To make your history and benefit from its purpose to locate and identify you, watch your Directory registration to see that it accurately records your positions in life from year to year.

The merchants and organizations that sponsor and use this service will be glad to have you consult their Directories so that you may see that your information is correctly and completely listed. We will appreciate your suggestions.
